CATALOGUE.

NEW PLANTS.

To be sent out about May 1st.

- FUCHSIAS. Some of these are of such recent introduction, that the English descriptions are used, which are believed to be entirely reliable. The English price for many of these was $2 each, during the past season.
- Charlemagne (Banks), rich scarlet, sepals well-reflexed, with a large barrel-shaped, violet-purple corolla; dwarf habit and free bloomer; very distinct and novel $1 00
- Venus de Medici (Banks), a great novelty, and the most beautiful Fuchsia that has been introduced for years; tube white, with sepals of a blush pink, or white-shaded, and striped with pink; corolla deep violet blue, large and beautifully formed. The above description will scarcely give an adequate idea of its beauty, as the color is quite new among Fuchsias, but we have no hesitation in saying, it will prove one of the finest varieties for exhibition. The habit of the plant is superior to any other white Fuchsia in cultivation. The flowers are large, and elegantly formed, well-reflexed; the sepals are very long, which gives the flower a most striking appearance. (Henderson). 1 00
- Gem of Whitehill (Story), sepals of a rich carmine, remarkably long, and well-reflexed, corolla deep violet, extra 1 00
- Star (Story), scarlet sepals, well-reflexed, large double corolla 1 00
- The above set of four for $3.
- The following superior Fuchsias, most of which belong to the novel white-corolla class, will be sold at 50 cents each, or $3 for the set of 8.
- Empress Eugenie, rosy crimson, white corolla, free flowering.
- Favorite (Banks), fine bright scarlet sepals and tube, well-reflexed, very graceful habit.
- Florence Nightingale, rosy crimson, sepals and tube, well-reflexed, and pure white corolla.
- Lady of the Lake (Story), bright deep crimson, with white corolla.
- Mrs. Story (Story), scarlet sepals, well-reflexed, corolla clear white.
- Prince of Wales, fine free growth, large reflexed sepals, color crimson, with violet corolla, extra.
- Queen Victoria (Story), crimson sepals, reflexed, with a clear white corolla.
- Snow-drop (Story), crimson petals, corolla clear white.

CUPHEA EMINENS.

This entirely new variety produces flowers nearly twice as large as any other in its class, and it is believed it will make a superior bedding plant. Flowers large, long tubed, of bright red and yellow, and is said to flower very freely. 50 cents each, $5 per dozen.

NEW PETUNIA COUNTESS OF ELLESMERE.

This variety has been introduced in England, during the past season, and it is said to supersede every Petunia hitherto grown, either for bedding purposes or pot culture. Mr. John Smith, of Lancashire, describes the flowers as of "moderate size, with a fine bold outline; color a rich bright scarlet with clear white eye, a profuse bloomer, and making a most effective bed; indeed it was the most conspicuous bedding plant in the whole of our flower garden, which was filled with the showiest and most dazzling kinds of flowering plants." By those who have received it, the unusual commendation is given, that "it has far exceeded expectations." 50 cents each, $5 per dozen.

PETUNIA IMPERIALIS.

A new double white variety, very double, and fragrant; is well adapted to pot-culture, but is not suitable for bedding purposes. 50 cents each.

NEW VERBENAS.

Mrs. Holford, splendid white, was the best of this color at the English exhibitions the past season; truss large, and habit good.

Lady Kerrison, bluish white, with large yellow eye, crimson and rose spot on the upper petals.

Mrs. Hosier Williams (Bank's), "pure white, and is not injured by bad weather, and may be depended upon for making a fine bed." This is more than can be said of any other variety in this color.

Novelty (seedling), flowers medium size, brilliant crimson, with very conspicuous white eye, the most conspicuous flower in my collection, the past season.

Madame Kien, a new French variety, flowers white, with purple eye, with perfect truss, and fine habit.

Wonderful, superior, rich plum purple, with white centre, fine form, large truss, good habit, and very conspicuous. Price 50 cents each.

To those who take the set of six, the following new English varieties will be furnished gratis:—

Mrs. Woodroffe, splendid scarlet, and Souvenir d'Evry Narcisse, violet, with large white eye, fine.

NEW SHRUBBY CALCEOLARIAS.

Brunnetia, very robust habit, flowers large and fine formed, rich crimson, extra 50 cts.

Vezzosa (Henderson), flowers finely formed, of a bright orange and crimson, shaded or mottled, of good habit and superior . . . 50 cts.

WEGELIA CORÆENSIS.

This variety of Wegelia, has been discovered within a few years, and sent out under the name of Amabalis. Its habit of growth being somewhat similar to W. Rosea, the latter has been sent out as a substitute, in many cases. Among other differences, it possesses the very important quality of flowering in autumn. Dr. Lindley says of it, (Gardner's Chronicle, London, October 8, 1856,) "We have now a specimen, loaded with most brilliant, deep, rose-colored flowers. In our judgment, it is, beyond all comparison, the best autumnal shrub, after the rose." Price 50 cents each, $5 per dozen.

VERONICA IMPERIAL BLUE, ETC.

VERONICA IMPERIAL BLUE.

A splendid bedding variety, small plants, flowering freely all the summer. 50 cents each.

LANTANA ALBA GRANDIFLORA.

The largest and best white variety. 50 cts. Lantana flava lilacena, very fine. 50 cents.

LANTANA MARQUIS DE SAPORTA (true).

New orange and crimson variety, very fine. 50 cts.

HELIOTROPE.

Beauty of the Boudoir (Henderson's), the best of all Heliotropes. Also, Gen. Valhubert, Imperatrice Eugenie, Madame Anna Turrell, Marguerite Wilson, (lavender), Premices and other new and distinct varieties. Price 50 cents each. 6 best varieties $2.

SPLENDID SHOW GERANIUMS.

For a full description of new and very superior varieties of Show Geraniums, or Pelargoniums, see separate list, page 5. Many of these, such as Topsy, Phaeton, Lydia, Eugene Scribe, Lady Drummond, Commander-in-chief, &c., were sold in England, the past season, at prices varying from 7s. 6d. to £1 sterling. For the parlor or greenhouse, no plant can surpass this in richness and beauty of color. Price for best varieties $1 each. $8 per dozen. Best 12 distinct varieties, our selection, $6. Older but good kinds, $3 per dozen.

FANCY AND VARIEGATED GERANIUMS.

For a full description, including several new, distinct, and very beautiful sorts see list, page 5.

BEDDING, OR HORSESHOE GERANIUMS.

This class is unsurpassed by any plant, for bedding purposes, and any improvement in varieties is a great desideratum. It is believed the following will give great satisfaction, both for general effect and novelty of color. Price $1 each; the set for $2.50.

Lady Turner, fine form, compact habit, foliage well marked, with white flowers, which are clear and distinct, and will supersede every variety in this color.

Lady Smythe, violet shaded rose, quite a novel color in this class, trusses of flower large and compact, foliage distinctly marked with the horse-shoe; a good bedder.

Duchess of Kent, dark, rich scarlet, with large, conspicuous white centre, dwarf and free-flowering. This striking variety, from its conspicuous white centre, is very distinct among Scarlet Geraniums.

DELPHINIUM CARDINALE.

A new species, with decided bright scarlet flower, a free, robust habit, and quite hardy, a great acquisition to the Herbaceous Garden. Price $1 50.

SHOW GERANIUMS.

Nearly all the varieties embraced in this list, are entirely new in this country, and are superior to any in cultivation. New varieties at $1 each, $8 per dozen. Best 12 varieties, our selection, for $6. Older, but good varieties, such as Rosy Pearl, Forget-Me-Not, Zanzemin, Jenny Lind, Perfection, Isabella, &c., at $3 per dozen.
